

Judgment

Shall

Sit

Part 3

Shalom and welcome to the Twenty-Third Annual Feast of Tabernacles and to this seminar entitled Judgment Shall Sit, Part 3. Let us stand together and repeat Psalm 100: 1-5,

1 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD יהוה, all ye lands.

2 Serve the LORD יהוה with gladness: come before His presence with singing.

3 Know ye that the LORD יהוה He is God: it is He that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people, and the sheep of His pasture.

4 Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him, and bless His name.

5 For the LORD יהוה is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth to all generations. Praise יהוה!

It is so good to praise יהוה together. It is so good to praise יהוה בן יהוה together. It is so good to know that we are the people chosen specifically to give יהוה praise. So let everything that has breath, praise יהוה!

Please turn to Daniel 8:25 to read the foundation Scripture for this seminar.

And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.

In looking at Daniel 8:25, thus far, the phrase we are decoding is “And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand...” In Judgment Shall Sit, Part 2, we addressed “And through his policy ....” Today, we will move on to the next phrases in this Scripture “...also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart...”

Therefore, let us begin today’s seminar by starting with the word also. From the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 38, the word also is defined as “in addition to.”

He is the next word in this phrase, and we need to firmly re-establish the person the pronoun he is referring to. In the Webster’s New World Dictionary of the American Language, copyright 1957, on page 666, the definition of he emerges as “the man previously mentioned.” Just to make sure we all remember who that man is, we can review at this point the factual information from the previous seminar, Judgment Shall Sit, Part 2.

The man previously mentioned in this Verse is an artificer, a descendant of Cain, and a child of the Devil. The man previously mentioned in this Scripture who fits these characteristics is George W. Bush, President of The United States. Praise יהוה.

Therefore, we can surmise from these definitions that in addition to establishing the Department of Homeland Security, which he will use to set judicial precedence, giving him final say in legal matters, he, President George W. Bush, shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart...

In addition to running the government of America based on the influence of the god of this world, and not on spiritual matters, he, President George W. Bush, shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart....

In addition to putting forth before the American people and the world a crafty plot or scheme, which conceals his evil purposes, he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart...

In addition to establishing an authoritarian political order, which concentrates all power in his hands, thereby making him not constitutionally responsible to the people, he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart....

In addition to beguiling the American people into believing he is not taking away their individual freedoms by saying he is protecting them from a threat to their national security, he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart....

Therefore, from Judgment Shall Sit, Part 2, we can conclude that, in addition to everything else he has done thus far, the “little” horn, President George W. Bush, shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart....

So let's further explore, through our reference books, what the rest of the words in the first phrase mean, which will tell us how President Bush shall cause craft to prosper in his hand.

In The Cassell Compact Dictionary, copyright 1998, on page 1014, shall takes us to the meaning "used to express a command." In addition to everything else that he has already done, President George W. Bush, will express a command. Therefore, we must define the words express and command to determine how it applies to the phrase, ... cause craft to prosper in his hand.

In consultation with the Webster's New World College Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 1996, on page 480, I found that express means "reveal." Then according to The Cassell Compact Dictionary, copyright 1998, on page 943, reveal is defined as to "allow to appear; to betray." Continuing in The Cassell Compact Dictionary, on page 221, we see that command has as its meaning "to exercise supreme authority; a mandate."

Thus far, we can surmise from these definitions, that President Bush will allow it to appear that he has been given a command to exercise his supreme authority under a mandate given to him.

Now let's see what mandate means. From The American College Dictionary, copyright 1969, mandate, on page 739, is "a commission given to one nation by an associated group of nations (such as the League of Nations) to administer the government and affairs of a people in a backward territory." In Webster's New World College Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 1996, on page 768, the League of Nations "is an association of nations (1920-1946) established to promote international cooperation and peace: it was succeeded by the United Nations."

The facts indicate that President Bush will have it appear that he has been given a mandate by the United Nations to administer the government and affairs of a people in a backward territory. What determines a backward territory?

First, let us consult The Synonym Finder, by J. I. Rodale, copyright 1978, on page 88, to look up backward, which has as a meaning “underdeveloped.” Then in the Merriam-Webster’s Dictionary, Computer Software 2001, territory means “a geographical area belonging to or under the jurisdiction of a governmental authority.” In the same reference, jurisdiction is “the authority of a sovereign power.” Listed in the Bartlett’s Roget’s Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 1300, sovereign refers to the word “national,” reference number 566.10, of which the root word is nation.

From these facts, we see that a backward territory is what is called today an underdeveloped geographical area that belongs to a sovereign government, which is more commonly termed an underdeveloped nation.

In order to get a better handle on how underdeveloped is defined, we will consult the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001. On page 1563, it states underdeveloped is “lacking in technology and capital to make efficient use of available resources.” That phrase can include over one-half of the nations on the earth!

So let’s put what we’ve learned thus far into the context of the Scriptural phrase ...also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand,.... The facts show that in addition to everything else he has done, the “little” horn, President Bush, will allow it to appear that he has been given a mandate by the United Nations to exercise supreme authority over a nation that does not have the technology and capital to make sufficient use of its available resources.

Now, we can understand better why Colin Powell was sent back and forth to the United Nations over and over again to push for the passage of Resolution 1441, and why President Bush would not start the attack on Iraq without getting that consensus from the United Nations.

Here is another thing that happened at the same time. He betrayed the American people by camouflaging his requested mandate under the wording of making war with Iraq to seek out and destroy weapons of mass destruction.

It's no coincidence that the UN Resolution is numbered 1441. Do you know what reference number 1441 means in Hebrew? Let me refer you to The New Strong's Exhaustive Concordance, copyright 1990, in which the Hebrew-Chaldee Dictionary lists on page 26, reference number 1441, the Hebrew word transliterated Gideoniy (ghid-o-nee') which means "warlike." This word is derived from reference number 1438 on the same page, the Hebrew word transliterated gada (gaw-dah') defined as "to destroy anything."

No matter what the world was led to believe by his posturing about going into war alone, President Bush would not act without being given an order or command from the United Nations Security Council to make war with Iraq in order to destroy anything that stood in the way of his exercising supreme authority over the resources of that country. Praise יהוה.

President Bush, in cahoots with the United Nations, betrayed the American and Iraqi people by using the guise of getting rid of weapons of mass destruction and the cruel leader of Iraq. When the facts show that all the while the goal was supreme authority over the most abundant resource Iraq has: oil.

Let us turn to a reference Scripture to our foundation Scripture, Daniel 11:25-27, to follow the whole scenario, read:

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings' hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

Look at the picture evolve. “He”--the one previously spoken of, the “little” horn, President George W. Bush--will incite trouble against another leader, Sadaam Hussein, by moving into place his great army.

The leader of the south, Hussein, will also be stirred up to mobilize what he calls a great and mighty army. But he will be defeated because “they,” the United Nations, calculated with Bush beforehand a plan or scheme against him. The plan was even in collusion with the very countries that fed on a portion of his (Hussein’s) meat: In other words, those countries that were getting oil from Iraq.

Both Sadaam Hussein and President George W. Bush wanted to cause harm and damage with their mischief. Both lied at the table: one about weapons of mass destruction, the other about the size and strength of his great army.

But this is still Judgment Day, and the judgment of יהוה shall sit. And no matter what each of them has done to elevate himself, it shall not prosper, for yet the end shall be at the appointed time of יהוה. Praise יהוה!

Now let's get back to Daniel 8:25 and the phrase... also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand. We have already defined also he shall, in which case, the next word is cause, of the phrase "... cause craft to prosper in his hand."

Therefore, let us delve into this word by conferring with The Oxford Dictionary and Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 221, which states cause is a person that occasions something; a ground that may be held to justify something." On the same page, synonyms are reason; motive; basis; pretext.

From these definitions, let's start with "a person that occasions something." Since we have already identified the person who shall cause craft to prosper in his hand as the "little" horn, President Bush, we can go ahead and address the word occasions. In the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 1004, occasion, the root word of occasions is defined as “a chance or opportunity to do something.” Needless to say, this definition clearly means President Bush jumped at the opportunity to do something.

Remember, the word cause, listed the second definition in the same reference as “a ground that may be held to justify something.” When the Bartlett's Roget's Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 102, was consulted for the word ground under reference number 72.2, it yielded the definitions “claim; right; privilege.”

At this point, let's insert these words in the original definition of occasion which would read: a claim that may be held to justify something; or a right that may be held to justify something; or a privilege that may be held to justify something.

In the Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, Computer Software, 2001, claim is “to take as the rightful owner; a right to something usually in another's possession.” On the grounds of the mandate given to him, President Bush determined that he has a right to the oil in Iraq.

President Bush and his friends, including Vice President Dick Cheney and his business associates, have laid claim and are acting as the rightful owners of the oil in Iraq, rather than giving it back to the Iraqi people whom they claimed to be liberating so they could govern for themselves. Thus, from President Bush's point of view, the mandate he was given by the United Nations justifies his right to the oil and his conquering army has given him the privilege to do whatever he pleases with it. To the victor go the spoils. Praise יהוה.

Possessing the Iraqi oil gives him the reason; the motive; the basis; and the pretext for craft to prosper in his hand. Undoubtedly, it is time for the true definition of craft, according to its context in this Scripture, to be revealed.

Strictly speaking from The New Strong's Exhaustive Concordance, copyright 1990, Hebrew-Chaldee Dictionary, on page 73, craft is reference number 4820, the Hebrew word mirmah, whose definition is from number 7411 in the same sense of "deceiving; fraud; guile; subtlety; treachery." Craft, therefore, leads us, without a doubt, to President Bush being deceitful; fraudulent; guileful; and treacherous--all of which prosper in his hand.

Let's move on to determining what each of these words means as it relates to prospering in President Bush's hand. According to the Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language, copyright 1957, on page 379, to deceive is a "deliberate misinterpretation of the facts by words, actions, etc. to further one's ends." Continuing on page 576, fraud "in law, is intentional deception to cause a person to give up some lawful right; trick; artifice." Fast forward to page 644, guile is "deceitful talk." Then on page 1551, treachery is "betrayal of trust or faith."

This expert reference has revealed facts that President Bush used deliberately deceitful talk to misinterpret the facts about weapons of mass destruction in Iraq in his words and actions to further his own ends.

In addition, it was an intentional deception, which resulted in the Iraqi people having to give up their lawful right to their country's resource, oil, by trickery and artifice. His betrayal of the trust and faith of the American people in him, as the person who was supposed to be leading the country into a war to destroy weapons of mass destruction, is turning out to be for selfish gain.

This statement is further verified as we delve into prosper, the next word in Daniel 8:25. As defined in The New Strong's Exhaustive Concordance, copyright 1990, Hebrew-Chaldee Dictionary, on page 99, prosper is the Hebrew reference number 6743, "be profitable." Then, found in the Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, Computer Software, profit, the root word of profitable means "a valuable return."

The Bartlett's Roget's Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 1246 lists the word return as meaning "reciprocity." In the same reference book, reciprocity is reference number 729.1 on page 642, and it means "quid pro quo," which is a term readily associated with Bush's daddy, former President George Herbert Walker Bush.

How does something said so often by his father relate to what is happening today? Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language, copyright 1957, page 1194 states quid pro quo is from Latin origin and means “something for something; one thing in return for another.”

Thus far, decoding of the word prosper by way of profitable and profit has led us to the “little” horn, President Bush, being given something in return for something. So let’s move on to the next part of Daniel 8:25, which will lead us to the something he was given in return, and it states ...in his hand.

In consultation with the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 726, the word in is defined “as a consequence of.” Therefore, as a consequence of his appointment to the office of President, by men of power and authority, when President Bush took his oath of office, he swore to give a profitable or a valuable return to these men, indicating compliance to the expression quid pro quo or “something for something else.”

Let us move on to the next word in this phrase which is the word his. Again using the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 681, his “indicates something belonging to a man whose identify is already known.” We already know we are talking about President George W. Bush.

Therefore, we can read the phrase as President Bush’s hand. The New Strong’s Complete Dictionary of Bible Words, copyright 1996, in the Hebrew/Aramaic Dictionary on page 384 defines hand as “power.” This makes it clear that what President Bush received was power.

For the power he received, what is the something the “little” horn, President Bush, gives? The answer is oil rights. It started in Alaska, then moved to Afghanistan. And the one thing that was clearly given up by the “little” horn, President Bush, quickly after going into Iraq, were the oil rights. Consequently, the expression quid pro quo in relation to Daniel 8:25 translates to President Bush being given power through his appointment to the office of President of the United States, in exchange for the oil resources in America and in “underdeveloped countries,” especially in the Middle East. Oil is a very valuable return. Praise יהוה.

We have learned up to now that President Bush allowed it to appear that he needed a command or mandate from the United Nations to exercise his supreme authority of declaring war against an underdeveloped nation, using the pretext of looking for weapons of mass destruction. When, in point of fact, the real motive was to turn over to the men of power and authority who appointed him to office the oil resources in that region.

This is a betrayal of the trust of the American people because the lives of their sons, daughters, husbands, and wives are being put in danger daily in order to satisfy one man's ambition. We were also able to ascertain from decoding this portion of Daniel 8:25, that his actions are in keeping with his "true" character because he is not above using treachery, guile, deception, and fraud to get what he wants.

There is another Scripture that fits the profile just described of the "little" horn, President Bush's "true" character. Please turn to Psalm 10:7, read:

The elements in this Verse cannot be overlooked because, when defined, a more comprehensive picture of the "true" character of the “little” horn, President Bush, will emerge along with his true intentions.

So let’s first start with the word mouth. Recorded in The New Strong’s Complete Dictionary of Bible Words, copyright 1996, in the Hebrew/Aramaic Dictionary on pages 486-487 is the Hebrew reference number 6310, peh, the Hebrew word for mouth. Mouth takes on the meanings of “particularly speech; appointment.” In The Random House College Dictionary, copyright 1984, on page 1263, speech is defined as “the power of speaking; rumor.” Switching to the Bartlett’s Roget’s Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 242, under reference number 205.2, the power of speech equates to “verbiage; repetitiveness.”

Returning to The Random House College Dictionary, copyright 1984, on page 66, the word appointment means “the act of appointing to an office.” Therefore, by definition, mouth is describing President Bush’s speech pattern upon being appointed to office, which consists a lot of verbiage, repetitiveness, and the disclosure of rumor rather than fact. Praise יהוה.

Now let's proceed to the next word in Psalm 10:7 which is the word full. Going back to the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 578, full is defined as "with much or many, having a large amount of something."

When we add these definitions to the previous ones, we can see that thus far, the facts have uncovered that when President Bush gives speeches, they contain a large amount of verbiage and repetitiveness based on rumor rather than fact.

Now it's time to explore the verbiage and repetitiveness his mouth is full of by defining the words cursing, deceit, and fraud. According to the Strongest Strong's Exhaustive Concordance of the Bible, copyright 2001, in the Hebrew/Aramaic Dictionary, on page 388 under reference number 423, cursing is "curse; sworn agreement; public charge."

From The Random House College Dictionary, copyright 1984, on page 328, curse is defined as "to blaspheme or to speak contemptuously or with abuse of יהוה." And on page 109, public charge is "a person who is in economic distress and is supported by government expense."

Therefore, this substantiates the fact that what comes out of the “little” horn, President Bush’s, verbiage will fulfill a sworn agreement he took upon being appointed to office. He agreed to blaspheme יהוה by speaking contemptuously about his Son, יהוה בן יהוה. Turn to Revelation 13:6,

And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against יהוה, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

President Bush is bound by his sworn agreement to open his mouth in blasphemy against the Most High God, יהוה, to blaspheme the Holy name of יהוה בן יהוה His tabernacle and the saints that live in heaven.

Furthermore, he also agreed to do something about the people in economic distress being supported by government expense.

At first thought, one might think of these persons as welfare recipients because they are in economic distress and are being supported by the government. However, in today’s economy, there is another set of persons in economic distress who are supported by the government as well.

Their support is termed subsidy. These persons supported or subsidized by the government own big companies that are going bankrupt. Such persons are stockholders who have lost a great deal of money in stock market companies supported or subsidized by the government through contracts. These persons are involved in oil companies that went bust, who are now being supported by the government authorizing oil drilling in Alaska through the Secretary of the Department of the Interior and now through the acquisition of the oil in Afghanistan and Iraq. Praise מיהרה

Now let's continue on in Psalm 10:7 to determine the means by which the "little" horn, President Bush, is able to fulfill his sworn agreement by decoding, "His mouth is full of deceit and fraud." Let us start in the Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, Computer Software, 2001, with the word deceit which is "dissimulate: to hide under a false appearance." In The Random House College Dictionary, copyright 1984, on page 526, fraud is equivalent to "an imposter."

These facts are substantiating that whenever we define words describing the "true" character of President Bush, we are invariably led by these expert definitions, back to President Bush hiding behind a false appearance. This very same fact was revealed by יהוה in Judgment Shall Sit, Parts 1&2. Praise יהוה.

But that's not the only thing that deceit and fraud can tell us about President Bush's "true" character. Now let's move on to The Oxford American Desk Dictionary and Thesaurus, copyright 2001, on page 195 for some synonyms of deceit, which are "chicanery, misrepresentation, hypocrisy." On page 129, chicanery means "clever, but misleading talk; false argument." Going on to page 529, misrepresentation means to "give a false or misleading account or idea of." Hypocrisy is found in the same reference on page 398, and is defined as "false claim to virtue; insincerity; pretense." On page 320, fraud is "a dishonest artifice."

As these facts are analyzed, the "true" character of the "little horn," President Bush, continues to show him as not only an artificer who is a descendant of Cain, but now he's also a dishonest artificer. He continues to hide under a false appearance. He is using clever, but misleading talk and false arguments to go to war with nations that have resources he and his cronies want to control.

The facts also show he is a hypocrite because he feigns a false claim to virtue, when all the while he is putting on a pretense of sincerity. Praise יהוה.

Now let's get back to our foundation Scripture and continue on to the next phrase in Daniel 8:25, which is... and he shall magnify himself in his heart... We can approach this phrase by first defining the words and he. According to the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 49, and is "a conjunction used to indicate an additional thing; used to connect ideas."

This information leads us to conclude that and was placed here to let the readers know that whatever comes after it is something in addition to what was already said and is therefore connected to the principle subject being discussed. Thus, using the word and to precede the word he, leaves us a clue that an additional thing is being written about the principle subject, President George W. Bush. Praise יהוה!

Now let's go to the next word to investigate, shall. In the Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, Computer Software, shall is defined as "what seems inevitable." Clearly then, it is inevitable that the "little" horn, President George W. Bush, will magnify himself in his heart.

Referenced in the Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, Computer Software, magnify is defined as "intensify; extol; exaggerate." From Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language, copyright 1957, on page 760, intensify "implies an increasing degree of force, vehemence." On the same page, intense, the root word of intensify is defined as "occurring in a high degree; violent."

That's one flavor of magnify. As previously stated, another definition of magnify is "extol." In consultation with The Cassell Compact Dictionary, copyright 1998, extol was found on page 389, and one of its meanings is "glorify." In the same reference on page 476, glorify means "to pay honor and glory to in worship; to praise."

Furthermore, in Bartlett's Roget's Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 1105, magnify has as definitions "exalt; deify."

As defined in Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, Computer Software, exalt is “to raise up especially in rank, power.” Continuing in the same reference, deify is defined as “to make a god of.” From the same source, deify also means “to idolize,” leading to “make an idol of.” An idol is “a false god.”

A picture has emerged of President Bush being glorified and paid honor to the point of worshiping him for his aggressive tactics and vehement approach to “hunting down” terrorists, who at this point are identified as Moslems. Because of his combatant escapades, he has risen in power and rank in the polls. And he uses every photo opportunity to tantalize the public into idolizing his actions, thereby setting himself up to be a false god (see picture that appeared in GQ Magazine, September 2003).

Lastly, the word exaggerate, another definition of magnify adds a more complete view of what is meant by the phrase magnify himself in his heart. In Webster's New World College Dictionary, copyright 1996, on page 472, exaggerate means “to speak or write of as greater than is really so; overstate; to enlarge to an extreme or abnormal degree.”

Contained in the Microsoft Encarta College Dictionary, copyright 2001, on page 497 is another definition of exaggerate, which is “to state that something is more important than is true; to make something appear more prominent than is usual.” Then from Webster’s New Collegiate Dictionary, copyright 1979, on page 394, exaggerate is “to enlarge beyond the truth.” Continuing on page 375, of the same reference, enlarge is “to give greater scope to,” and on page 1028, scope means “space or opportunity for unhampered activity.”

It’s time to address the last few words of this phrase from Daniel 8:25, which are ... in his heart.... From the Hebrew-Greek Key Study Bible, copyright 1991, in the Hebrew and Chaldee Dictionary, on page 58, the word heart is the Hebrew reference number 3824, lebab, (lay-bawb) defined as “mind.” Simply put, this means it is inevitable that the “little” horn, President Bush, will magnify himself in his own mind.

To sum up the facts from all of these definitions, we have found that by holding the office of the Presidency, George W. Bush occupies a space for unhampered activity, especially as it relates to dissemination of false information. From this platform, President George W. Bush will magnify himself by speaking and writing things about himself so that his actions appear greater than what they really are. He will do these things in an effort to enlarge his accomplishments to an extreme degree.

To magnify himself, President George W. Bush will state that his accomplishments are more important than what is really true, to make them appear more prominent than usual. He is not beyond overstating his mission by enlarging them beyond the truth, in other words, lying about what he's doing.

Meanwhile, it is plain to see that President George W. Bush intensifies his efforts at world domination by increasing degrees of force and violence, both occurring in a high degree.

The "little" horn President will magnify himself by glorifying his deeds, especially related to the conquering of nations. This is the mechanism he is utilizing to raise up in power and dignity.

Also, based on the definitions of magnify, President Bush's goal is not only to praise himself, but to have others pay honor and glory to him as well, even to the point of idolizing him, which in his mind translates into making him an idol or a false god.

But his wickedness will come to naught because  $\square\square\square\square$  is still in charge of judgment. Isaiah 28:17-18:

17 Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. Praise יהוה!

In summary, the facts have shown that the “little” horn, President George W. Bush, is causing craft to prosper in his hand. The facts continue to confirm that his “true” character is one of a deceiver, hypocrite, and a dishonest artificer who operates under a false appearance.

By using the Divine Ten Step Study Method of  $\text{בן יהוה}$   $\text{יהוה}$ to decode the Scriptures, it has been revealed that President George W. Bush is driven by the sworn agreement he made with the men of power who appointed him President of the United States. A part of that agreement was to give them a valuable return on their investment, or quid pro quo. They gave him power; he gave them oil.

And the consequences of his actions to people, countries or the environment don't matter either, as he hides under the guise of the war on terror and destroying weapons of mass destruction. In addition, President Bush collaborated with the United Nations to issue a mandate to go after underdeveloped countries whose resources he wants to capture.

The other part of his sworn agreement is to blaspheme the name of יהוה and His Son, יהוה בן יהוה. This part is driven and fueled by President Bush's vanity. Vanity that is so powerful, he will use every trick at his disposal to try to magnify himself above יהוה בן יהוה.

For this purpose, he has the perfect avenue to use because the office of the Presidency allows President Bush unhampered activity to send out lies about his activities to magnify himself in the eyes of the people of America and the world. His lies have people thinking one thing when the exact opposite is true. By the time he finishes twisting the truth and glorifying his deeds to the world, he will have people idolizing him, thereby making him a false god.

By the same token, he can use this same unhampered activity to blaspheme יהוה בן יהוה which will be fueled by his empty pride, vanity, and conceit. These self indulgent characteristics lead him to believe that he can exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvelous things against the God of gods...(Daniel 11:36) ...And by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand (Daniel 8:25).

And יהוה willing, this is the point at which Judgment Shall Sit, Part IV, will begin. Again, I thank my heavenly Father, יהוה, and my Savior, יהוה בן יהוה, for blessing me, His servant, to be here this day.

I thank Him for His Divine Ten Step Study Method and His guidance as I strive to bring to you His message sealed so many, many years ago. And I pray that יהוה will continue to be with us and direct our paths until we meet again. Shalom Alechiem!

Scriptures for Judgment Shall Sit, Part 3

Psalms 100: 1-5,

1 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD Yahweh, all ye lands.

*2 Serve the LORD Yahweh with gladness: come

*3 Know ye that the LORD Yahweh he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves;
we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.*

4 Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him, and bless His name.

*5 For the LORD Yahweh is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth to all

Daniel 8:25

And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy

many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.

Daniel 11:25-27

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings' hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

Psalm 10:7, read:

Revelation 13:6,

And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against Yahweh, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

Isaiah 28:17-18:

17 Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.
