

“The Rising of The Beast Out of The Sea”

Giving all praises to our Great, Good and Terrible God יהוה. For He is truly worthy of all kudos and magnification. It is my honor to be able to be used as His voice-box today. For truly the words that I speak are not my words but His. Therefore, I would like to welcome you to this seminar, entitled, “The Rising of The Beast Out of The Sea.”

Before, we begin I must first uplift and glorify יהוה for sending His Son, בן יהוה יהוה because without Him, I would undoubtedly be brainwashed right along with the masses of the people. I would believe all kinds of silly and comical things. We have been so spooked out by the dead dog preachers of this world that it’s amazing that anyone could come down and even reach us. So, we must thank יהוה for saving us and teaching us the right way, which is Yahweh. Let us stand on our feet and give יהוה the praise and the glory.

Once again, I welcome you to this seminar entitled, “The Rising of The Beast Out of The Sea.” This seminar is direly needed because, we were taught by our taskmasters and great-great-great grandparents, all kinds of ridiculous things in relation to the beast of Revelation, Chapter 13, like big red dragons with wings and a serpent tongue, scales like a lizard, claws like an eagle coming up out of the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. Come on, is this not laughable? And it's sad to see our people believing things like this. And then, if you try to tell them about it, they feel that you are insulting their intelligence, so they get huffish and mad. And they will say such silly things like, "Well that's what the Bible says." Can you imagine, this is what a good Christian upbringing and all that sprinkling and dipping in the water does for a people, draws us farther and farther away from reality? We don't even think to read figuratively or symbolically. If Reverend Doctor Willie Wilson taught in his Sunday sermon, that the Last Days will be like the Loch Ness monster flying up out of the middle of the Atlantic Ocean with seven heads, ten horns, and a fork tongue, to set the non-believers on fire, that's what we would believe. We'd think that Reverend Doctor Willie Wilson was the Gospel, but we wouldn't consider how unintelligent his theory would be. Now, could you imagine lying on the beach and all of a sudden this big "thing" overshadows the earth? There would be no hope. I mean, who could get away from it and then, on the other side who would just lie there and be bitten and swallowed by something with multiple heads. It's bad enough trying to run from a Doberman Pincher. So this is where our quest begins, right at Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 1. Please open your Bibles to this scripture, please:

And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

“...and I saw a beast rise up out of the sea...” This is the segment of the scripture that we will be decoding in this hour. The first word that we will be scrutinizing is the word “sea.” With this being first and foremost we will destroy the theory of the beast rising out of the Atlantic Ocean. And then, upon this word being analyzed you will understand why I decided to take this approach in establishing the truth behind who this beast is and from whence he will come. On the authority of The Synonym Finder, under the definition of “rise,” we see that He will ascend, surmount, move upward, strengthen, wage war, originate and emanate from some source. However the question is, what is this source?

Let us begin our course of study with the word sea, referenced in the Barnhart Concise Dictionary of Etymology, copyright 1995, on page 697, it gives us the origin or should I say a little background information on sea. It states that the word sea, “probably about the year 1150 was see (s-e-e) and later became sea (s-e-a), probably before 1200; developed from Old English.” This should immediately draw attention, if you are aware of how the devil loves to deceive us by using a “play on words.”

This tells us that the devil changed the original spelling of the word from s-e-e to s-e-a. Could this have been to throw the saints of the Most High off course (Daniel 7:25)? The devil thought to change times and laws, so of course he could certainly think to change words. Therefore, if this had not been traced back to the year 1150 (which is still not the correct time because he changed the time), but if this had not been traced back, then we would believe from this contortion of words that Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 1, was implying a body of water. We'd be studying trying to find out which side of the Atlantic Ocean we would see the beast ascend. By us coming to this new found knowledge we know not to be studying sea from the standpoint of s-e-a, but rather from the origin of the word, which is s-e-e.

In accordance with The Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 1334, see is the same as the “See of Rome;” the papacy. This sparks a new insight, which means from this point forward we will be laying heavy stones to bury the myth of the Atlantic Ocean and to build the landmark of truth. Therefore, when we read Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 1 in part, we should read it like this, “And I saw the beast rise up out of the See of Rome; the papacy.”

Question: What does this mean? What is the See of Rome or the papacy? Upon researching I have come to discern that the See of Rome and the papacy are synonymous, meaning that they carry the same definition. So let us get some history on one of these words: papacy. According to The Random House Dictionary of the English Language, School Edition, copyright 1973, on page 551, papacy means “in the Roman Catholic Church.” This lets us know that the beast will rise up, meaning that he will ascend, surmount, move upward, strengthen, wage war, originate and emanate from within the “Roman Catholic Church.” In the same reference source, papacy also means, “the office, dignity or power of the pope; the system of Roman Catholic Government.” Now come, let us put two and two together from the facts that we have just gathered to further clarify the rise of the beast. This means that someone who has just been identified as the Pope, who is the supreme head of the Roman Catholic Church and the System of Roman Catholic Government will give rise to the beast. This means that he will be the one whom he will originate and emanate from, he will also be the one who will aid him to ascend, surmount, move upward, strengthen and wage war.

To give further identity to the Pope, being that he is the one whom the beast shall arise from let us shed light on exactly who the “pope,” is. In The Random House

Dictionary of the English Language, School Edition, copyright 1973, on page 589, the Pope is “the Bishop of Rome, and as we have already found, the head of the Roman Catholic Church.” Now this impresses another question in my mind, how does the Pope or Bishop of Rome, or the Roman Catholic Church relate to the rising of the beast out of the sea? I can gather that for the beast (who is associated with the Pope or Bishop of Rome) to be a worldly power that will affect us here in America, this must not only be about the “physical” land or the people of Rome. It must be “seriously” deeper than this. Therefore, from the title, “Bishop of Rome,” stemming from the word Pope, this must represent something else, meaning that he must not only be the Pope or Bishop that sits over a place called “Rome.”

On the authority of the Oxford Study Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 596, Rome is defined as, “the Roman Empire; the seat of the Roman Catholic Church.” So now we know that we are talking about the seat of the “Roman Empire” or Roman Catholic Church. Seat is the foundation or basis upon which something sits. So provided these facts, we can take note that Rome is the foundation or basis of where the Roman Catholic Church was established. So just how far does the Roman Empire extend? If Roman is pertaining to the Roman Catholic Church [Merriam Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary, Tenth Edition, copyright 1999, on page 1015] we can look at it this way, just how far does the empire of the Roman Catholic Church extend?

This sends us on another escapade. In the Encarta World English Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 586, an empire is “lands ruled by single authority; a group of nations or peoples ruled by a single authority,” while the Roman Catholic Church is the Christian Church headed by the pope (Bishop of Rome) [referenced in the Webster’s New World Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, on page 1244]. Now, with respect to the information just found, we can deduce that the Catholics, which are a shortened form for Roman Catholics are non other than Christians. If they are a Christian Church, they are none other than Christians. Therefore, you have your Catholics that don’t know that they are Christians and you have your Christians who don’t know that they are Catholics. If you tell a Christian they’re Catholic they’ll say, “uh-uh.” Isn’t this a big mix up? They distinguish themselves by religion, which they consider religion to differ in doctrines and belief, but in all actuality, it’s the same thing. Some may believe in faith and purification of sin by sprinkling, some may believe in immersion of water, while others may believe in anointing with holy oil, yet they all worship a false deity. However, if it’s not the teachings of יהוה or His Son, יהוה בן יהוה then they worship the wrong one. They worship the Pope who has set up an image (Rev. 13:4). If it's not Yahweh, it's not the right way. This tells us that people should just take the time to look up their religion in the dictionary or the encyclopedia and they will find out that they are all deceived, by a strong delusion. Let us turn to II Thessalonians, Chapter 2, verse 11:

And for this cause God, יְהוָה, shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

Would you not say that יְהוָה has put the entire world, meaning all people under strong delusion that they should believe in lies? In the Oxford Study Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 106, Catholic means “of all Christians.” This just tells the flat out truth, that the Catholic Church is the Christian Church. But the masses of the people hide under the title, “Christianity,” which we have just learned is Catholicism. And this is based upon opinion and statistics. It really doesn't matter how we address the name anymore because Christian and Catholic both relate to the same thing. For more documented proof, the Microsoft Encarta Encyclopedia of the Computer, copyrighted 1993-1995, states that Christianity is “the most widely distributed of the world religions, having substantial representation in all the populated continents of the globe. Its total membership may exceed 1.7 billion people.” And this was in 1993 through 96 so what about now, the world consists of over 6 billion people. This means that the Pope, who is the single authority, is head of the world, by the establishment of Catholicism, which is also hiding under the guise of Christianity.

So, therefore we can go back to answer the original question. The seat or authority of the Pope is not just over a “physical land” called Rome, but the Roman Empire, meaning his Roman Catholic Government has extended throughout the world, and more prominently here in America. The Roman Empire is all that believe in Catholicism, which is also Christianity. This seems like he sits on top of the world. Another definition of Catholic is universal [Merriam Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary, Tenth Edition, copyright 1999, on page 181]. Universal comes from the root universe meaning “the whole world, worldwide, widespread.” In finding these facts, we must not be deceived by thinking that the Roman Empire has extended to only nations of North Africa, Europe and Russia. That’s being narrow-minded, what they call small thinking, but realizing that the Roman Empire is right here in America. This is the big picture. This tells us what? That the supreme head of our country is the Pope, as we have just learned that the Roman Empire encompasses all nations who practice Roman Catholicism or Christianity. This is hidden from world history classes. They do not teach in public schools that there is a single authority who sits above the President of the US, who controls a one world religion and that this will be the way to usher in the New World Order, through one world religion.

Hence, we come to see that the beast was given power by one authority and that's the Pope who sits on high and no one really knows it. Why because they don't pay attention to stuff like this. They don't pay attention to signs. We barely read road signs, so let alone do we pay attention to prophetic signs. Let us turn to Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 4:

And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast...

Hold, let us stop right here. At this point we don't need to move too fast by reading anymore. What do we read, that the people did what? That they worshipped the dragon? And the dragon did what? The dragon gave power to the beast. Worship means to "take part in religious service" [In accord with the Encarta World English Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 2051]. Do not people worldwide take part in the religious service in worship of the phony image that was set up by the Pope every Sunday? All these people have been indoctrinated by a one-world religion. So some may be asking, is she saying that the dragon that is being talked about in Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 4 the Pope? Yes this is exactly what I'm saying, which I will be proving with "convincing" documentation.

We just got through clarifying that the Pope is the supreme head of the Roman Catholic Church, or Christian Church. So now let us dissect the word dragon. Substantiated in the Webster's New World Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, on page 432, dragon is defined as "a mythical monster." Now when we define the words mythical and monster, this is really going to turn the mystery of this dragon inside out. In The Synonym Finder, by J. I. Rodale, copyright 1978, on page 763, mythical means the same as "romantic." In the Webster's New World Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, on page 1244, romantic means, "to be characterized by romance." And on the same page, romance comes from the Latin etymology romanicus, which means Roman. And lastly, in the Merriam Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, Tenth Edition, copyright 1999, on page 1015, Roman means "of or pertaining to the See of Rome or the Roman Catholic Church." Where does this take us back to? This takes us right back to the Pope. We are not finished, there is still more to reveal. Let us now probe into the word monster, being that the dragon is a "mythical monster." This is going to come as a shock, on the authority of the Webster's New World Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, on page 933, monster is a "divine portent of misfortune." How many of us knew that? Most of us only associate monsters with something that comes back from the dead, with one eyeball. So, it's shocking to find out that a monster, as it relates to the See of Rome or the Pope is a "divine portent of misfortune." Do we know what "portent" is? In the Webster's New World Dictionary, on page 1122, portent is "something that foretells an event about to occur, esp. an unfortunate event; omen." And an omen is a prophetic sign [In the American Heritage College Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, page 952].

Therefore, we can assert that the Pope and the Roman Catholic Church are prophetic signs of misfortune. This means that all kinds of bad, evil, wicked and immoral things are going to happen within. Proof of such is in the Webster's New World Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, on page 920, where it states that misfortune is trouble. Therefore, when we see the dragon, the Pope, stand as the head of the Roman Catholic Church and condone, what is unacceptable and incoherent to the teachings of the Bible, then we must know that we are living in the "End Times." When we see the people uneasy around the priests or bishops of their church for fear of what will happen to them or their children then we must know that we are living in the "End Times." To further back up the fear and trouble that they will have, to prove that this is real and not something that is made up, one definition of the word trouble, in The Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 1576, is, “to molest.” How much more real do you want the truth to come? Are we not witnessing molestation take place in the Roman Catholic Church. Mothers who are afraid to send their young sons around the bishops or cardinals of their church for fear that they will come home “sexually abused.” I mean, how sick is this? What kind of organization that is set up on the foundation of “God” would condone such diabolical acts? We can attest to this. We watch on the news, the young boys who are now grown men coming out of hiding saying that they were sexually abused by their priests. Doesn’t this sound like the world that is run by the Pope is in trouble? It’s happening in all churches, but its just starting to be brought to the forefront with what they call the Catholic Churches. Do you think that this has not caused permanent injury on the boys who have suffered this treatment, or to the parents who have to face the issues of what’s happening in the churches when they leave their sons alone with the priests? This is just an example to show what will happen to those who leave their trust in the hand of a dragon, a mythical monster or a romantic monster. And for this monster to give power to the beast, we know that the beast must be just as much of an animal as the Pope.

This leads us to our next point of discussion. Thus far we have spent time gathering background information on the Pope and the Roman Catholic Organization. Because in order for us to “fully” understand the rising of the beast we must understand the Pope who gave rise to the beast. If we could please go back to Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 4 and reread the first portion again:

And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast...

So, now we know who gave power to the beast. Apparently the beast must have been chosen of the Pope. Certainly he didn't choose himself, especially under the conditions that he holds such a “high” title. Someone gave him that authority and put him right in a seat of power. This is what made him “the” beast. According to the Webster's New World Dictionary, Third Edition, copyright 2000, on page 1483, the is “one designated or identified, as by title (Their example is, “the President of the United States). However, we don't want to jump to conclusions too soon. So we will let Webster, Cassell, Bartlett, and Oxford confirm this fact for us.

First, we want to prove who the beast is by proving that he was designated. On the authority of The Synonym Finder, by J. I. Rodale, copyright 1978, on page 282, designate means to delegate, select, choose, elect, vote in, place in office. In the same reference source, designate is also the same as nickname. We must keep in mind that the word “the” lets us know that he has a name or title that he will be identified by. In The Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 981, nickname is “a name given in familiarity.” To add to this we can see that the beast was given a nickname or title that would make him “familiar.” What is the name that makes the beast “familiar?” In the Merriam Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary, Tenth Edition, copyright 1999, on page 771, name is “an illustrious record: fame.” Therefore, by the beast having authority granted to him by the dragon, the Pope, this has granted him an illustrious record, honorable character, noble achievements and great fame. Now there is a catch to this, it didn’t say that he had to earn it, but rather, Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 4, tells us that it would be given to him. This is a form of power: “high reputation.” In conjunction with these facts, in the same source of reference, name also means, “appointed to office.” Once again showing that he was chosen by someone. In accordance with the Bartlett’s Roget’s Thesaurus, copyright 1996, on page 1155, office is a “line of duty,” and under this reference #433.3, it means commission. On page, 861, commission means to inaugurate [from reference #771.31]. Are you all still with me? In continuing to follow this path, the Encarta World English Dictionary, copyright 2000, on page 908, defines inauguration, which is the noun of inaugurate as “the formal placing of someone into an official position, especially the President of the United States.” Being that the dictionary is a little unclear about the appointing of the President into office, we can deduce from The Synonym Finder that especially means the same as chiefly and primarily. Therefore, we can assert that the beast is chiefly and primarily one that has been commissioned to a line of duty or that has been appointed to an official position through an inauguration. Does this allow you the capacity to believe that the beast is nicknamed “Mr. President of the United States?”

To add to these facts, in the Encarta Dictionary, on page 908, inaugurate comes from Latin inaugurare and it means “to install in office after observing omens.” Wow, so this means that someone put a particular President in office after observing omens; after observing prophetic signs of the End Time’s they knew that it would be time for this particular one to be installed in office. The Latin word inaugurere, which comes from the Latin root augurari means, “augur.” In The Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 90, augur means, “to be a sign or foreboding.” And on page 569, “foreboding” under the root forebode, is a “prophecy, presage or anticipation of evil.” Now, let me ask you a question, who is the President that is currently in office? Bush. Do you think that the inauguration of President Bush could be the prophecy or anticipation of evil that is spoken of in Revelation Chapter 13? From our research we learn that someone was observing omens, meaning that someone knew the signs, they knew prophecy and they installed the President into office? The only way to prove that this Revelation is talking about “Bush,” is that we must be able to relate the signs that we see taking place today with the things that the Bible said would occur. It’s happening right here in the day of Bush being in office. We can not dispute it.

Could the one who is keeping a watch for the signs of the End Times be the Bishop of Rome, who is also known as the Pope or dragon, the one who gave power to the beast? In the Barnhart’s Concise Dictionary of Etymology, The Origins of American English Words, copyright 1995, on page 70, bishop comes from Greek episkopos, which means overseer. Now, let’s look at this logically, the Pope or dragon installed someone in office to do his job, oversee or keep a watch on time. Being that the word oversee and watch go hand in hand, in the Encarta World English Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 2004, watch means the same as, “time.” Watch also means “a division of night.” Therefore, we have a certain period of time that the beast would be put in office to be on the look out or to be expectant of. He would be watching for the night, a period of gloom. With this alone we can clearly see that this is a sign of prophecy. The beast can do nothing outside of fulfilling the will of יהיה.

Now let's back stroke a little and go back to the word see, where we originally started. This will help us gain a further understanding of the beast today. In The Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 1334, see (s-e-e), comes from Latin sedere, meaning, "to sit." Now, if you had power and you were handing your power over to someone else this means that you would allow them the right to exercise authority and control, am I right? So, on the authority of The Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 1378, sit means "to roost." Let us not get off key by thinking that we are talking about chickens. This doesn't have anything to do with chickens. Remember, we just got through with talking about vesting authority into someone's hands, by putting them in office to keep a lookout of or to be on the alert of time. The beast is working on a time frame. He's working in a division of the night, which is a certain period of the night. In the same source of reference, roost means, "to stay the night."

From these facts we are gathering that he was given a certain period or time of the night during which he should be on the watch or guard. Keep in mind, when we say night, we are not talking about a physical darkness but a period when things will be gloomy and when tribulation will set in. Period is synonymous to "session." In the Bartlett's Roget's Thesaurus, copyright 1996, session from reference # 641.4 is a “term of imprisonment.” So, exactly whose imprisonment are we talking about? To clarify whose term of imprisonment we are talking about let us break down what it means to sit, which means roost, which means to stay the night. It is obvious that this period of imprisonment is during the period of night. In the Cambridge International Dictionary, copyright 1995, page 1417, stay means “to continue.” This allows us to see that the President was allowed to continue, to act as the Pope by keeping a watch on someone’s prison term. This sounds like this could be scriptural to me. Let us open our Bibles to Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 5. Read:

And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

Let’s not concentrate on the mouth speaking great blasphemies that’s a series of its own, but let’s concentrate on what comes after the colon where it says that the beast, who is the President was given power to continue forty and two months. That equals three and a half years. So the question is, what does it mean to be able to continue for forty and two months or three and a half years? My question is could the reason why the President has to continue is because the Pope, John Paul II, is too old and can barely stand up without shaking and drooling everywhere or is it for more prophetic reasons or is it just a combination of both? In The Synonym Finder, by J. I. Rodale, copyright 1978, on page 225, continue means to “maintain course.” And in the Encarta’s World English Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 415, course is a sequence of events. This means that the beast, the President was given three and a half years to continue a sequence of events that involve the night. That’s where our next journey begins with the word night.

In accordance with the Cassell Concise Dictionary, Revised Edition, copyright 1998, on page 981, night is a “dark period.” On page 367, dark means “grief,” so then we can assert that the beast was given authority to continue through a period of grief, which sounds much like the last portion of Tribulation to me. Grief comes from grieve, on page 649. And grieve on the same page is synonymous to grave. And on page 645, grave, is a place of burial; a sepulcher. Now, what does this tell us? That the sequence of events that the beast was given to watch over was the burial of יהוה בן יהוה. He was given the job to make sure that the sepulcher stays or is made sure. Sure means bound; tight. When I see sepulcher my mind immediately goes to one place, because I know that there was only one person who had a watch set over him, and that was יהוה בן יהוה. Let us read Matthew, Chapter 27, verse 64:

Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first.

Let us also drop down and read Matthew, Chapter 27, verse 66.

So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

This lets us know that they bound the sepulcher to make sure that it was sure, so that the disciples of יהוה בן יהוה would not come by night. In other words, the beast, the president is not only watching every move of יהוה בן יהוה, but he is also watching us, those who would come by night, at a period of grief and tribulation. We have made it down to the final conflict. The beast was afraid of the disciples coming by night and teaching the word of יהוה בן יהוה. They bound יהוה בן יהוה, so the last thing they ever wanted was for us to come during tribulation and teach the gospel of יהוה בן יהוה. They were afraid that we would stand up in opposition to their one world religion, which we have found the one world religion being the Roman Catholic Church; the same as the Roman Catholic Government. This means that they were afraid that we would stand up against it, and blow their cover. So, the sequence of events was to first put יהוה בן יהוה away and the next is to put those away who come by night. This is why the scripture reads that the last error shall be worst than the first. That's why Revelation, Chapter 12, verse 7, tells us that the dragon and his angels fought. The Pope, and his angels, his beast, his US Governmental System that fall under the beast fought. This is what makes his title so important. This is why he had to be given a familiar name, a familiar title – “Mr. President” because he will be a prize fighter for the dragon. He’s all for it.

In the Merriam Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary, Tenth Edition, copyright 1999, on page 1238 title is defined as, championship. On page 190, championship is the act of championing: “DEFENSE.” The root of championship is champion, which on the same page means, “FIGHTER: a militant advocate or defender.” Therefore, we can see that the beast is the devil’s advocate. He’s a militant advocator, meaning He’s aggressive. He’s one that makes comments like, “By any means necessary.” “We’re going to hunt’em down.” “If you are not for America you are against us.” Does this not sound militant to you? Champion also means to “challenge.” He tried to stop God in His tracks by taking him out of one prison and moving him to an even worst one. Does this not seem like he’s challenging us? Finally let us read Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 4 all the way through:

And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

“Who is able to make war with the beast?’ Does that not sound like a challenge to you? Let’s drop down and read verse 7:

And it was given unto him to make war with the saints,...

Didn’t I tell you when we first started that the rise of the beast was going to be to “wage war.” The scripture said that it was given unto him to make war with whom? The saints of the Most High. Why you? Because the saints of the Most High will not follow the one-world religion, which is the one world government. So what will happen to you when you stand opposed to this? Oh, those who have the testimony be ready.

In the Merriam Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary, Tenth Edition, copyright 1999, on page 189, challenge means “to accuse falsely; calumny.” And on page 163, calumny means “slander: a misrepresentation intended to blacken another’s reputation.” On page, 119 blacken means “to defame.” On page 301, defame means “to harm the reputation of by libels.” On page 670, libel is “a written or oral defamatory statement or representation that conveys an unjustly unfavorable impression: a statement or representation published without just cause and tending to expose another to public contempt.”

This surely is what will happen to us. This is the battle the beast will contend. Do we know who we are dealing with? The spirit of Anti-Christ. The beast is anti-יהוה בן יהוה. He's going to help push the Roman Catholic Church during the period that they have יהוה בן יהוה in the sepulcher, this is why he must be on the watch making sure that the sepulcher is sure; sealed with a stone. By him doing this, this makes him the familiar friend of the Pope. You better believe they are the Judas family.

Webster's Random House Unabridged Dictionary of the Computer, copyright 1999 defines familiar as "of the Roman Catholic Church – an officer of the Inquisition employed to arrest accused or suspected persons." Be mindful that an officer can also be addressed as an elected or appointed official of the governmental department. In The Random House Dictionary of the English Language, School Edition, copyright 1973, on page 399, Inquisition is "a special tribunal set up by the Roman Catholic Church to combat, sentence and punish heresy." Heresy is unorthodox opinion; an opinion that does not coincide with tradition. Catholicism is tradition. In the Encarta World English Dictionary, copyright 1999, on page 926, they give a little history on inquisition -- it says that the Inquisition is an organization in the Roman Catholic Church founded in the 13th Century to find, question, and sentence those who did not hold orthodox beliefs; NONCONFORMIST. Now, did they say that this organization stopped finding, questioning or sentencing those who do not have orthodox beliefs? They try to relate this to something that happened in the past, but I believe that it is happening today. What is orthodox? In the same reference source, on page 1277, orthodox is “traditional doctrine; following the established or traditional rules of social behavior, a philosophy, or a faith; observing Christian Creeds; following the teachings of Jesus Christ and the Christian faith as set down in the ecumenical creeds. Ecumenical falls under the synonym of Catholic. So, let me ask you some questions: Do we follow their traditional or established beliefs or rules of behavior? No. Do we observe Catholic or Christian Creeds? No. Do we follow the teachings of Jesus Christ? No. So, just because they say this is a former organization do you think that they stopped combating or punishing those for heresy? We just finished discussing who our “challenger” is. We are what they call NONCONFORMIST. We are being persecuted for not conforming to the Roman Catholic Church. So, we see that they don’t call it inquisition anymore meaning, they don’t burn you at stake with physical fire anymore. That’s one of their punishments, but today, they call it the Judicial System. They call it “ladies and gentlemen of the jury.” They call it a judicial examination: the finding of the jury, that's the definition that's under inquisition that relates to these times [according to the Merriam Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, page 604].

If you are a nonconformist you shall be punished. It happened to God. It will happen to us. That's how they got יהוה בן יהוה, with a jury, judge, prosecutor, attorney general, publicists. That means if we walk around doing what I'm doing right now, " talking," preaching the word of יהוה, then in their court of law, we'll be punished for speaking the truth. If you look up the punishment for heresy, you'll find that it's excommunication [according to the Merriam Webster's Collegiate Dictionary]. Well guess what, we must be living the times, because we can't even talk to our God, יהוה בן יהוה. We can't talk to Him in person, in written form, via TV, internet, etc. That sounds like ex-communication to me, no matter how they define it. So, if we don't worship the image by conforming to one-world religion we shall be put through trial. The question is, are we tough enough to endure it? Let us read Revelation, Chapter 13, verse 15.

And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

And I believe I just pointed it out very clearly that we do not follow the doctrines or beliefs of the image that he has set up. That means what? According to the scripture, we “should” be killed. In The Cassell Concise Dictionary and Thesaurus, copyright 1999, on page 1013, should is the same as “shall.” And on page 1005, shall is “used to express an intention.” This means that it will be their intentions to kill us, but they will not be able to. Why? Because we are under יהוה [’s] divine protection as long as we do what He says do. And He said do not worship the image of the beast. Normally if someone would have told me this a few years ago I would have gotten up and walked out. But I’m showing you how deep my love for יהוה runs and the respect that I have for His will. Does this mean a physical death? Our Father, יהוה בן יהוה suffered a Judicial Murder. In The Synonym Finder, by J. I. Rodale, copyright 1978, on page 625 kill can mean: put away, silenced, cut down, executed, stoned, or reduced to nothing. This is what the Bible says should happen to those who refuse to worship the image of the beast and to those who might be stupid enough to worship the image of the beast, which is the Roman Catholic or Christian Church. Let us read Revelation, Chapter 13, verses 16 through 17:

And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

This is what they tell you they intend to do if you don't take that mark, that you should be killed. If you fear death, you're in trouble. If you fear man more than you fear יהוה בן יהוה, then you will see death anyway. My Father, יהוה בן יהוה said don't take the mark, by worshipping the one-world government. I fear Him who is able to kill both body and soul in hell.

As we can read in Revelation, Chapter 13, verses 16-17, the seat of the Presidents authority will be the New World Order. He's a brute animal, he doesn't mind treating you like a slave, you were brought here as a slave. It didn't bother him then, and it doesn't bother him now. In The New Strong's Exhaustive Concordance of the Bible, the Greek word for beast is therion (thay-ree-on) and it comes from the reference #2342 and it is the same as reference #2339, thera (thay-rah), which means (a wild animal, as game). Before we close, to show you how real this situation is. The word wild in the Webster's New World Dictionary, copyright 2000, on page 1636, means game. And on page 582, game is an activity for diversion or amusement. Through the events that are happening, as the collapse of the World Trade Center, the Enron scandal, the Priests and the young boys are prophetic signs. They are games that are used to detour our attention from the real deal. They are keeping us entertained so that “boom” at any moment they can hit us in the forehead or on the back of the hand with a computer chip.

The real deal is that we are being diverted away from “rising of the beast,” which is the establishment of the New World Order. Gird up your loins and be ready for what is approaching. May we all be strong and I look forward to seeing you in our next series of this seminar. Kazakh Veamats.
